

Speak to me of your dreams

Speak to me of your dreams
Of your loves, the parts of your body
That tingle when the sun sets
Of what you'll show this world

Tell me of depth
Of your gut speaking
Your heart beats
Taps of your dancing steps

Show me the marks
Life left you, and you
Left life, longing for more
Giving back as you received

Tell me you notice
How generous the universe is
Show me flowers I have never seen
That bloom in your eyes

I want your arms around me
While I sleep, your lips
In my neck while I weep
Your hips following my dancing feet

Give it to me as long as it lasts
Don't wait until this moment
Of feeling full, this urge is past
And keep our night for the ever last
